FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SUPPLYPRO'S USTOCKIT INVENTORY SHELF TAG SYSTEM ACHIEVES SIGNIFICANT SUCCESS AFTER ONE YEAR OF BETA OPERATION

SAN DIEGO, CA, AUGUST 30, 2024 – SupplyPro, the leader in automated inventory management technologies, is proud to announce the successful conclusion of its year-long beta program for the UStockit™ Inventory Shelf Tag System. Since its beta launch in early 2022, the system has delivered transformative results across multiple industries, underscoring its potential to revolutionize inventory management.

Proven Results

The UStockit Inventory Shelf Tag System has excelled in reducing stockouts, streamlining replenishment processes, and enhancing overall inventory accuracy. Beta participants have experienced significant reductions in operational costs, fewer labor-intensive cycle counts, and greater inventory visibility, leading to increased efficiency and profitability.

A key strength of UStockit is its versatility. It adeptly manages a wide range of inventory items that are traditionally difficult to monitor, including Maintenance, Repair, and Operations (MRO) supplies, Personal Protective Equipment (PPE), and oversized items like gas cylinders and motors that don't fit in conventional vending machines. UStockit effectively tracks and manages both low-cost and high-value SKUs—critical items that don't justify the expense of traditional vending solutions.

This adaptability has made UStockit indispensable in industries where precise inventory control is vital, such as manufacturing and healthcare. The beta program also revealed that when accountability measures are introduced, compliance rates are exceptionally high, resulting in reduced waste, minimized hoarding, and decreased theft. UStockit is now recognized as a powerful tool for enhancing operational efficiency and overall business performance.

Customer Success Story

Charlie Tobey, Supply Chain Solutions Manager at Airgas—a leading supplier of industrial, medical, and specialty gases—shared, "The Inventory Shelf Tag System enables us to offer customers a cost-effective, easy-to-implement inventory management solution with key features like stock alerts, real-time monitoring, and automated ordering. As a distributor, we've increased productivity and efficiency by eliminating manual inventory tracking and addressing stockout issues proactively. This allows us to focus on new opportunities, manage special projects, and strengthen customer relationships."

Looking Ahead

With the overwhelming success of the beta program, SupplyPro is preparing for the full-scale commercial launch of the UStockit Inventory Shelf Tag System. This next-generation inventory control solution is poised to revolutionize the industry, offering a flexible, low-cost alternative to traditional vending systems for distributors and manufacturers.

A Comprehensive Solution for All Businesses

UStockit, powered by SupplyPro, is a versatile and groundbreaking platform that combines reliable hardware, innovative software, and cutting-edge inventory management technology into a single, easy-to-use solution. Tailored specifically for small and medium-sized businesses that may not have the resources for large-scale inventory management systems, UStockit offers an affordable and flexible subscription model that delivers enterprise-level accuracy and efficiency without the financial investment and resources required for larger solutions.

UStockit's design makes advanced inventory control accessible to all, allowing even the smallest operations to achieve the kind of accuracy and efficiency that were once the exclusive domain of large enterprises. Beyond its suitability for small and medium businesses, UStockit is also designed to integrate seamlessly with larger business management systems. This adaptability enables companies of all sizes to leverage its robust inventory management capabilities, effectively bridging the gap between small-scale operations and expansive enterprise environments.

Additionally, UStockit integrates effortlessly with SupplyPro's Intelligent Software and hardware, giving businesses the flexibility to customize their inventory management strategies for maximum efficiency and control.
