

SupplyPro Celebrates 30 Years of Pioneering the Future

October 24 - 25, 2024 in San Diego, CA

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SAN DIEGO, CA (PRWEB) August 22, 2023 - SupplyPro, the industry-leading independent provider of automated inventory management technologies, proudly announces its milestone 30th-anniversary celebration.

Over the past three decades, SupplyPro has revolutionized inventory control with its cutting-edge solutions and unparalleled commitment to excellence. To mark this momentous occasion, SupplyPro will be hosting a two-day event on October 24th and 25th, 2024, offering a unique opportunity for customers, partners, employees, and industry enthusiasts to join in the festivities.

With more than 1.8 million monthly users spanning various industries, including manufacturing, aerospace, and high-tech fabrication, SupplyPro has become the go-to choice for businesses seeking increased efficiencies, profitability, and competitiveness.

The 30th-anniversary celebration will commence on October 24th with a compelling opening session scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Attendees will have the opportunity to delve into SupplyPro's journey, from its inception to becoming an industry leader.

The event will include:

1. Product Showcases: Demonstrations and displays of SupplyPro's latest inventory management solutions, including vending machines, cloud-based systems, and mobile apps.
2. Customer Testimonials: Long-standing customers will share their success stories and experiences with SupplyPro's solutions, highlighting the impact on their businesses.
3. Industry Insights: A panel discussion with industry experts and thought leaders to discuss current trends, challenges, and opportunities in the industrial distribution sector.
4. Workshops and Training: Interactive sessions on how to optimize the use of SupplyPro's solutions for better inventory management, including tips and tricks.

Throughout the two days, attendees will have the opportunity to participate in breakout sessions, which will include high-level product overviews, informative factory tours, and the chance to meet the folks behind SupplyPro's success.

SupplyPro's dedicated team of experts, who have played an integral role in the company's success, will lead:

- Exclusive presentations of the latest inventory solutions in development.
- Forums providing a glimpse into the future of inventory management.
- High-level product overviews and informative factory tours.

An optional celebratory dinner will be hosted after the daytime events, offering attendees a relaxed and informal setting to interact and celebrate this significant milestone.

"We are incredibly proud to celebrate three decades of innovation, growth, and success in the inventory management industry," said Floyd Miller, CEO of SupplyPro. "This milestone is a testament to the dedication and support of our valued customers, partners, and employees who have been with us every step of the way. We invite everyone to join us for this event as we showcase our journey, highlight our key products, and chart an inspiring course for the future."

SupplyPro extends its heartfelt gratitude to all customers, partners, employees, and friends who have been part of this remarkable journey.
